

WEST PLACER
GROUNDWATER
SUSTAINABILITY AGENCY

YOU'RE INVITED TO A PUBLIC MEETING ON THE GROUNDWATER MANAGEMENT ACT

Placer County, the cities of Roseville and Lincoln, Placer County Water Agency and with participation from California American Water Company, is hosting two public meetings on the 2014 Sustainable Groundwater Management Act and the formation of a Groundwater Sustainability Agency in west Placer County. Some areas of Placer County are covered in an adjacent region. (See map on back)

Those interested in learning more about the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act can attend a meeting to:

- Understand the Act and what it means for the west Placer area
- Become part of the process we're undertaking to develop a Groundwater Sustainability Agency and a Groundwater Sustainability Plan
- Ask questions and gain more information from local agency representatives

PUBLIC MEETING DETAILS

January 19
10 a.m. to noon
Materials Recovery Facility
3030 Fiddymont Road in Roseville

February 16
6 to 8 p.m.
McBean Pavilion
65 McBean Park Drive in Lincoln

BACKGROUND

Passed in 2014, the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act requires the formation of a Groundwater Sustainability Agency to manage local groundwater basins. This Act also requires the development of a Groundwater Sustainability Plan by 2022. The West Placer Groundwater Sustainability Agency coverage area, as defined by the California Department of Water Resources, includes a portion of the North American groundwater basin.

The West Placer Groundwater Sustainability Agency will manage a portion of the North American groundwater basin and implement activities that preserve and enhance the current state of this resource for our cities, communities, agricultural areas and the environment. This locally-controlled effort will protect the basin from overdraft, create sustainable water supplies, and support a stable and growing economy, including agriculture.
